

Clifton J Webb Jr

September 12, 1997 - April 9, 2018

CLIFTON JASON WEBB, JR. was born September 12, 1997 to Clifton Jason Webb, Sr. and Tiona Reed. From the very start, his bright eyes were there. Clifton, who was affectionately known by family as “Tig”, was very smart, happy, loving, and silly. Clifton was the youngest of three children.

Clifton graduated from the Springford School District in 2016 and was an avid sportsman. Out of all the sports, it was basketball he loved the most. Clifton loved his dunk and dribble.

Clifton was an intelligent young man. Whether you called him “CJ”, “Tigga”, or “Tig”, you were sure to call his name at some point. It might have been because he gave you the best compliment you’ve ever heard or because he scared the heck out of you. Tig was caring, funny and had love for all animals.

Clifton’s aspirations included continuing his education to become a surgeon and driving a Ferrari. By his account, he was already “twitter famous.” Clifton was always on hand to share obscure knowledge and scientific facts. He was a natural conversationalist.

Clifton’s laughter, sense of humor, and ability to light a room is forever etched in our hearts.

He was preceded in death by two grandparents, Charles Witherspoon and Sara Webb.

Clifton leaves to cherish precious memories: his mother, Tiona Webb; his father, Clifton Webb, Sr.; three siblings, Talia, Charles and Elyce; one niece, Peyton; one nephew, Quadir; his grandparents, Tyrone and Rhonda Reed; one future brother-in-law, Jaron; godmother, Chanel; favorite uncle, Curt; six other uncles, eight aunts; a host of cousins, extended family and friends.
