July 22, 1996 - March 9, 2026

Darrin Lamar Mason Jr., lovingly known as “Boonie,” was born on July 22, 1996, in Newark, Delaware. He passed away on March 9, 2026, leaving behind a family and community who loved him deeply.

Boonie attended public school in Wilmington, Delaware, where he built friendships and memories that stayed with him throughout his life.

Boonie was known for his sense of humor and the way he could make anyone laugh. His personality was vibrant, and he had a way of bringing light and energy into every room he entered. To know him was to experience his contagious laughter and unforgettable spirit.

He had a natural ability to connect with people and made friends wherever he went. Boonie was the kind of person who could lift your mood without even trying, always bringing jokes, good energy, and a presence that made others feel comfortable and accepted. He had a big heart, and he showed love in his own way, whether it was through laughter, showing up, or simply being there when it mattered most. His loyalty to those he loved was undeniable, and he will always be remembered for the joy and warmth he brought into people’s lives.

Above all, Boonie was a loving father who cared deeply for his children.

Legend and Sy'Air were his pride and joy, and his love for them was unconditional.

He leaves behind his loving mother, Tawana Owens; his stepfather, Reginald Owens; his Pop Pop, Alex; his grandmother, Cheryl; and his children, Legend Mason and Sy'Air Grinnell, who will continue to carry his memory forward. He is also survived by his siblings, Naairi, Siani, Zyquan, and Jahvier Sr.; his nieces and nephews, Jasai, Bailey, and Jahvier Jr.; and his best friends, Tyriek, Donald, and Briheem, along with many extended family members and friends who will forever cherish the memories they shared with him.

He was preceded in death by his father, Darrin Lamar Mason Sr., and his beloved grandmother, Minnie Jones, with whom he shared a very close bond.

Though his life was taken too soon, Boonie's love, laughter, and spirit will live on through his children, family, and everyone whose life he touched. He will be deeply missed and forever remembered.

“He will wipe every tear from their eyes. There will be no more death or mourning or crying or pain.”
