He was educated in the Kent County Public School System and graduated from the first graduating class of Chestertown High School in Chestertown Maryland in 1971. After graduating he was employed by various companies, until he became employed for the Kent County Public School System as a Head Janitorial Worker at Galena Middle School in Galena Md. He loved his job, because he loved being a positive influence in the lives of young people. So much so that he coached his community church youth boys' basketball team, which became champions. He didn't stop there, when he built his home, instead of using his garage for his car, he made it out of game room, for the children in the community, to come play pool, pinball games, and have snacks. He was a member of the Coleman Social Club in his Community.

He affectionally and lovingly was hands on in raising his three daughter/nieces, and son/nephew, he'd move heaven and earth to assure they had everything they needed, as he would for anyone.

That was not the end, not wanting to just retire he started his own cleaning business V and G Cleaning, if you knew him that wasn't enough. He became New Castle Avenue's Fish Man, cooking Fried Fish in the middle of the field, every Friday, when able.

Deacon Garry joined his hometown a church Union United Methodist Church in Coleman Corner, Md. He was a lifetime member of the Coleman Gospel Singer, which he was the President of. After moving to Delaware in look for church home and found, New Calvary Baptist Church. Deacon Garry was, a Godly Man, a willing servant for God. Under the guidance of Bishop Vincent P. Oliver whom he loved and felt that he was the best Pastor on Earth, was overly happy in his life's ministry. “ I remember being his choir director several years ago. I told him that God gave me a song for him to not only learn but to share his testimony. I asked him to listen and pray about and let me know. Needless to say, Deacon Wilson saaaaaang that song like he wrote it. Thank you Dea for listening to the voice of God. Your life reflected the song, and I can still hear you singing "It's been worth it all".
