“ This is such a hard thing to believe, that you have been taken away. Over the years, you really became family and although, we didn't have the same DNA, we had the same LOVE for one another, that's what made us family. I will keep your children and your siblings in my prayers.

SLEEP WELL SEAN!

I LOVE MARIE'S KIDS!

“ To your children MJ because they are the ones that needed you the most. I say that your father was always a comedian as well as wanting to be the best athlete on this planet. He broke his arm across the street from the center being MJ and dunking on the entire crowd on the little courts(He loved that spin move cross over). I remember the road to the Bob Carpenter Center when they won the state championship and brought pride back to the neighborhood. He was always entrepreneurial, between him and "D. Raj" I don't know who had the most hustles going. The more I type the more I think about how life really is not fair sometimes and you end up losing the ones that you take for granted seeing everyday. We really were family at the end of the day. Whenever someone acted like they wanted to jump on me, he would quietly slide off and call reinforcements without me knowing. Making sure that nothing crazy happened, while still trying to be the peace keeper. I hate this right now the same way I hated burying Kolb, Mase, D Raj, Bakeem Mo Good and everyone else. People stole them from me and just like then I feel lost. We always would talk about how we admired Newt but then go out of our way to never let him know, but low key he was and still is the inspiration. Kizzy would come home from UMass and give out work in the gym, playing with all men and holding her own. He always made jokes about how smart I was in only the way that he could make jokes. People will say that he was a ladies man, but being honest he just was easy to get along with to anyone that took the time out to get to know him. To the newest addition, may you always get the stories of everyone else. Just know he passed trying to get back to you, which is ..... I can't talk no more..... This hurts like a I rambled enough .... Just try to be good people and be there for each other and remain close with each other. You guys are the next generation.... May God be a light for each and everyone of you and may he lift this burden off of you...Keep them safe Lord and keep their minds and hearts.. Amen

“ This one hurts greatly and still in disbelief and trying to make sense of it all.. Yet, I still see your infectious smile and the joy you carried, no matter what.. May the family find comfort during this difficult time and cherish MJ's memories

“ Me you Boo- Boo and your brothers had fun skating and hanging around 5th street being kids. I remember i taught you how to skate backwards couldn't tell you nothing then. My mom would ask my little cousin Deon Wiggins whos going skating with you Boo would be like Sean lol you would already be in the car ready. Afterward everyone would spend the night eat every junk food in the house stay up all night playing watching movies. We both was 10 or 12 years old, i remember like it was yesterday we use to have some much fun. As im writing it hurts to know another one of my little cousin friends including hisself Deon Wiggins Boo Boo transition the same why. I will never understand why things like this happen so sad. MJ will always be a great man in my eyes, thanks for brightening up my childhood because it was boring in Newcastle, but i will always remember you as little big head Sean as I called ya, you called me nappy head kitta weata lol always had a smile before the joke. To the family once again sending my love and prayers.
